Plantar Fasciitis Night Splint

What is Plantar Fasciitis?

Plantar Fasciitis is an inflammation of the connective tissue (plantar fascia) extending from the heel to the ball of the foot. Symptoms include heel pain when taking first steps in the morning or after sitting. The sharp pain gradually disappears with continued walking or activity but returns each day.

Causes:

- Flat feet
- Weight gain
- High arches
- Increased physical activity
- Shoes without heel or arch support

The IMAK® Plantar Fasciitis Night Splint helps relieve heel pain, plantar fasciitis, achilles tendonitis and other painful heel conditions. Stretching the plantar fascia at night with IMAK PF Night Splint makes the first steps in the morning less painful. Universally sized and commended by the Arthritis Foundation for ease of use, this newest member of the IMAK family is comfortable to wear and easy to apply.

Simply place your foot into IMAK Plantar Fasciitis Night Splint and form the tension straps into an "X" across the front of your foot. The tension straps can be adjusted to accommodate your desired level of flexion and stretch. The product is universally sized and will fit the right or left foot.

Key Features:

- Applies quickly and easily
- Folds compactly for easy transportation
- Is lightweight and comfortable
- Is latex free

Digital Caps

Silipos polymer gel technology provides a unique dermal-delivery system that gradually diffuses USP medical grade mineral oil to impart deep moisturization for soft and supple skin. Silipos gels have been developed for numerous Medical and Beauty Care applications, and can be customized with a wide range of additives to meet specific consumer needs.

As the leading, vertically integrated manufacturer of patented polymer gel technologies in the world, many leading global corporations rely on Silipos for their product development needs. All gel development, including the incorporation of additives, is conducted in-house, as well as the base gel manufacturing and conversion to finished products.

Another unique feature of Silipos gels are the "visco-elastic" properties which allow the gel to move synergistically with the skin helping to prevent abrasion and discomfort. And of course, all Silipos gels are non-toxic, latex free and hypoallergenic.
